

The Institute of Culinary Arts at Robert Morris University is proud to present its fourth annual Fine Dining Series open to the public. Please join us for one or several outstanding dinners featuring the culinary expertise of our renowned chefs and students.

A Bountiful Harvest

Chicago Campus – Saturday, September 26, 2009
Orland Park Campus – Saturday, October 17, 2009

Our students have planted, cultivated and harvested garden-fresh herbs and vegetables which will feature prominently in our opening dinner. The colors and textures of fall's harvest will delight your palette. Everything on this menu is organically grown, and as the days turn cooler, a bountiful and hearty dinner will be prepared for your enjoyment.

A Taste of America

Orland Park Campus only – Saturday, November 7, 2009

From the corners of the US, we will bring you a fabulous menu that features the diversity from our very own country. Hearty, plentiful, and delicious, each dish will represent the traditions that are uniquely American.

Kuchnia Polska (Polish Cuisine)

Chicago Campus – Saturday, January 9, 2010
Orland Park Campus – Saturday, January 23, 2010

Chicago hosts the largest population of Poles outside of Poland itself, and RMU is proud to present this delicious cuisine. Polish food is a mixture of Slavic and Germanic culinary traditions and its rich heritage is present in this hearty menu of homestyle cooking.

Viva La France! (French Cuisine)

Chicago Campus – Saturday, February 13, 2010
Orland Park Campus – Saturday, February 27, 2010

Our chefs and students are up to the challenge of enticing you with a classic French menu that is sure to win your heart. February is the month of love so bring your dear ones and celebrate with us here at RMU. This dinner will be a match made in heaven!

Mangier Bene (Italian Cuisine)

Chicago Campus – Saturday, April 10, 2010
Orland Park Campus – Saturday, April 24, 2010

The most popular ethnic cuisine in this country is Italian, and no wonder! With its rich, but simple pasta, meats and vegetable dishes, Italian cuisine is meant to please everyone. This has become our most popular dinner every season so be sure to reserve your space early. Mangier Bene – Eat Well!

Taste of the Islands

Chicago Campus – Saturday, May 15, 2010
Orland Park Campus – Saturday, May 22, 2010

We'll round out our series of dinners with something a little different. From Hawaii to the Caribbean, island cuisine is a colorful mixture of tastes and textures that are both sweet and spicy. Intriguing ways of combining foods make this cuisine exciting and delicious. You won't want to miss this final dining experience of the season.
